

Offer These Vocabulary Challenges

Water Words

gurgle plop drop cascade glisten sparkling shimmering waves

Brainstorm lists of water-related adjectives and verbs. Think visually. Think auditorially.

Water Songs

Use brainstorm words to replace the lyrics of well-known songs with syllables from water words.

Try this to the tune of "Happy Birthday;" insert these syllables and sing:

"Bub-ble, bub-ble, plop, drop, Bub-ble, bub-ble, plop, drop..."

Add a soundtrack to your play, or film your scene picture and add songs.

Make Programs

Write program notes and biographies using the book's model. Cast six students in the main parts and write about each of their interests and how they each helped make the show.

Find These Words

Interesting words and terms pepper the text of The Incredible Water Show.

Look for:

miraculous • hydrogen oxygen • atom H₂O • substance • water acrobatics • glistening precisely • sloshing perpetually • recycling . . .

Visit debrafrasier.com for a pdf list of thirty-two words.

Debra Frasier is an avid canoeist and kayaker, and a visit to her website will introduce your students to her 50 Rivers Journal. Write to her about the rivers and lakes in your communities.

If you create a Water Extravaganza performance, e-mail your pictures to her for consideration for posting on the School Gallery Page.

Photo by Ian Hunter

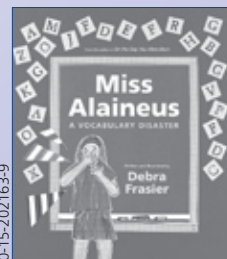

Photo by Jerry Stein

Debra Frasier is the author and illustrator of On the Day You Were Born as well as Out of the Ocean, the award-winning story and picture glossary about finding things at the edge of the sea. Appreciating and studying the natural world has always been central to Debra's writing projects, and these books reflect her commitment to seeing the world around us.

The characters who perform in The Incredible Water Show originally appeared in Miss Alaineus: A Vocabulary Disaster, the award-winning and hilarious vocabulary romp that has inspired Vocabulary Parades from coast to coast. Visit www.debrafrasier.com to learn how to bring the parade to your school.

Companion book:

0-15-202163-9